

Our experience with Valentino & Associates was absolutely a 10. Lauren was fantastic to work with. Real estate buying/selling is a complex transaction with occasionally unforeseen situations. Two things stand out: That we were able to quickly engage Lauren to help us buy our new home while, quickly listing our previous home for sale. Also, that Lauren was able to schedule myriad moving pieces to work together almost flawlessly was a minor miracle. I'd say that the key to making this a smooth transaction was that Lauren really listened to us and to understand what we want...and then tried to make it happen.
