

I've used Rachel and her team to purchase two properties and sell one. I would be the first to admit that I am not easy to work with but Rachel, Maria and Ben were always prompt, courteous and professional. Most importantly though they got me a good sale price on the property I was selling and got me a similarly good purchase price on my new place. I trusted them to keep an eye on the details and Maria handled a very tough and in some ways unique negotiation on my purchase. She's (Maria) always calm which is a good demeanor to have in this business. I like that they have someone like Ben to move the process along. I imagine in some places the agent has to do that stuff themselves and they get bogged down. Highly recommend Rachel Valentino & Associates
